

of his receiving tribute from gamblers is ridiculous. It's worse than that Hink.

"So long as my marriage is good in the eyes of the Lord and the state of Indiana, I don't give a whoop about the opinions of the Illinois supreme court."—Frank S. Tenney. Why should you, Frank?

Senator Cullom is 82 years old. But he's going to resign, so let's forgive him.

Master in Chancery Chas W. Morrison has put case of Chicago Butter and Egg Board in can- nery until Dec. 1.

Which again illustrates how the judiciary doesn't put itself out to help the people quick.

William Peggub, Wabash ave., was arrested today charged with the robbery of Andrew Kuswerk, Wednesday night. Andrew was robbed of $8.

E. Roel, merchant, was found dead today on a Cottage Grove car, heart failure.

Fred Mitchel, 79, 3920 Seeley ave., died today from injuries sustained by slip on icy sidewalk.

* OUR ROBBERIES *

Hold-ups and robberies averaged over on an hour for past twenty-four hours.

Rose Egshk, 18, 4732 Rice st. held up. Purse containing $4.30.

Porch climbers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loewenthal, Greenwood ave.; jewelry valued at $600

Dr. E. French, Indiana ave., auto supplies valued at $25.

Mrs. A. Fisher, Wentworth ave., harness valued at $15.

Tony Bugach, W. 33d. jewelry valued at $36.

Patrick McGraw, W. 34th st., $140 in cash.

Kidder & Lewis Co., E. 47th st., $35 in cash and cigars.

J. W. Lowenthal, Greenwood ave., jewelry valued at $660.

W. E. Klouse, W. Adams st., clothing valued at $25.

John Ross, W. Adams st., clothing valued at $50.

August Meindle, Washington blvd., clothing valued at $75.

Charles Kleiner, Washington blvd., clothing valued at $30.

Thomas Thompson, N. 51st court, tools valued at $90.

Harry Larsen, N. Francisco ave., jewelry and clothing valued at $77.

Charles Tyrell, Milwaukee ave. $38 in cash and jewelry.

Fred Wolf, Cortland st., $70 in cash and jewelry.

Christ Larson, 1335 Norwood ave., jewelry valued at $17.

Robert M. Summers, 458 E. 47th st., cigars and candy valued at $259.

Maud Burrolls, E. 46th place, clothing valued at $35.

A. Ferguson, Rhodes ave., jewelry valued at $70.

Mrs. M. Thornton, Vincennes ave., jewelry valued at $93.

Ignatz Knaperek, S. Laffin, jewelry valued at $27.

Karal Kowalsky, S. Robey, jewelry valued at $19.

Mrs. E. Taylor, W. Monroe, jewelry and a mink collar valued at $80.